How to Speak With Fearless Confidence on Camera and on Stage — in Minutes a Day

Even if you're shy, busy, or you've tried speaking courses before with Tariq EQ Amawi · TEDx speaker · creator of the Mic Drop Method

TONIGHT

By the end of this hour you'll know

Why most people never get better

It isn't talent. It's the way they've been taught.

The three secrets that change it

Each one breaks a belief that's been holding you back.

A way to start this week

In minutes a day, on your phone.

IS THIS YOU?

When it's your turn to speak...

Your nerves kick in

Heart racing, voice shaking, mind racing ahead.

The “ums” take over

Filler words creep in and undercut what you mean.

You freeze on camera

The red light goes on and the real you disappears.

Type “me” in the chat if that’s you.

OR IS IT THIS?

When you finally get going...

You ramble

The point is in there somewhere.

You lose your place

One distraction and the thread is gone.

Your point gets buried

People remember the detour, not the message.

You finish unsure

Did that land? You can't tell.

Type "me" if that's you too.

THE COST OF STAYING QUIET

Promotions, clients, stages and opportunities
go to whoever speaks up.

Not the smartest person in the room. The one who can say it.

STAY TO THE END

Two reasons to be here at the end of the hour

- Something I've never offered before — I'll open it at the end, only for people here tonight.
- A live-only bonus — [bonus], for people who are here live, not the replay.

WHO AM I TO TEACH THIS?

Tariq EQ Amawi

TEDx speaker

Slam poetry winner

National writing winner

Standing ovations, three continents

Speeches written for entrepreneurs

Creator of the Mic Drop Method

BEFORE WE GO ON

You don't need to be like me to do this.

It's a framework — simple on purpose, and already tested on hundreds of students.

WHERE IT STARTED

An English teacher for a mother

living thesaurus —
I asked her about every word

8 years old when I started writing poetry

14 when I won a national writing competition

BUT

Writing isn't speaking.

For all those words on the page, I had never given a speech. Not one.

BALI

Once upon a table in Bali

Late one night, Susie Johnston asked me to tell the story of how I got to Bali. So I told it, right there at the table.

A few days later: "You've come highly recommended to be a speaker for TEDx."

My first speech ever was a TEDx talk.

WHAT I DID NEXT

I studied the greats — and the talk took off

10x the views of every other talk at that event

Les Brown. Martin Luther King. John F. Kennedy. Tony Robbins. Bob Proctor. I pulled out what they did — the pauses, the stories, the build — and put it into my talk.

STAGES AROUND THE WORLD

Then came the standing ovations

Bali Spirit Festival, Freedom Fest in Australia and Budapest, the Stockholm School of Economics in St. Petersburg.

Routinely, to standing ovations.

THE REALISATION

A standing ovation isn't luck. It's a formula.

And formulas can be taught.

SO I LOOKED AT SPEAKING COURSES

Every one I found worked the same way

Watch a video

Take notes

Move on

Nobody ever spoke.

THE BIG IDEA TONIGHT

Online speaking courses don't work, because you never practise and you never get feedback.

Learning to drive from a laptop

Watching the concert from your seat

A lecture that ticks by

You can't learn to swim by watching swimming videos.

BE HONEST

Have you done a course like that?

It wasn't you — it was the method.

Type "yes" in the chat

WHAT I DID INSTEAD

I made my students speak — every week

In my cohorts, every student recorded every challenge, and I reviewed every single take.

[2–3 student results — names and outcomes]

BEHIND THE SCENES

There was one problem.
There was only one of me.

The method worked — but it could only reach as many people as I had hours in the day.

So I built Coach, to watch every take, for everyone.

QUICK CHECK

Does that make sense so far?

Courses that only let you watch can't change how you speak.

Type "yes" in the chat

SECRET #1

Practise out loud, and get feedback on every attempt.

Breaks the belief: "Speaking courses don't work for me."

SECRET #1

The loop that makes you better

1 • A 1–2 minute lesson

2 • A short recorded challenge

3 • Feedback on that take

4 • The next attempt

Each time round the loop, you get better.

SECRET #1

Why feedback changes everything

Without feedback

You repeat the same habits — the same ums, the same rushed ending — and never know what to change.

With feedback

Every attempt fixes one thing. Ten attempts, ten things better. That's how speakers are made.

PROOF · BRIAN KELLY

From the Global Citizens Forum to a TEDx invitation

Brian trained with me for his talk at the Global Citizens Forum in Dubai — practising, getting feedback, and going again.

He gave the talk. As a result, he was invited to give a TEDx talk.

Founder of 9D Breathwork

TRY THIS WITH ME NOW

The powerful pause vs the filler word

- Feel an “um” coming? Close your mouth. Breathe. Let the silence sit.
- Silence reads as confidence. An “um” says you’re searching. A pause says you’re sure.
- Try it now: one sentence about your day — pause instead of um.

QUICK CHECK

Can you see why watching alone never worked?

You just improved by doing it — not by watching me.

Confidence is built, in minutes a day.
It's a skill, not a talent.

Breaks the belief: "I'm too shy." "Some people are just natural."

Confidence comes after doing — not before.

You don't need courage to start. You get it from the reps.

TRY THIS WITH ME NOW

Soften: calm your nerves in ten seconds

- Soften your breath — slow in through the nose, and out even slower.
- Soften your gaze — stop staring. Let your eyes relax.
- Soften your shoulders — let the tension drop. The fear starts to go.

PROOF · ANNE AWUOR MATOKE

Shy, nervous — and she'd never gone live

In week 5 she started her own podcast. She's now filmed more than 160 episodes.

She's been invited onto her local TV channel — and she's just published her first book.

“Tariq gives more than you invest.”

IN HER WORDS

“I recently received an interview to feature on my local TV channel. To date, I still apply Tariq’s wisdom on my podcast, on my short videos, and even with friends and family. Tariq gives more than you invest.”

— Anne Awuor Matoke

"I'VE NEVER FINISHED AN ONLINE COURSE"

Why people drop out

Long videos

An hour of lecture before you've done anything.

No feedback

Nobody tells you if you're getting better.

No reason to come back

Nothing pulls you into tomorrow.

"MY STORIES DON'T MATTER"

"I feel like I have permission to tell my stories — and that they hold value."

— Melissa Pritchard

SPEAK BETTER

Built to be finished

- 1–2 minute lessons
- Short, focused challenges
- Trophies and badges
- Streaks that pull you back
- Sections that unlock
- Positive feedback on every take

It feels like a game — so you keep going.

SPEAK BETTER

Your journey is a road — and you ride it

25 challenges on the S.T.O.R.Y. road, in 2D, 3D or a full ride.

QUICK CHECK

Starting to see how this could work for you?

Short, fun, and built so you actually finish.

Type "yes" in the chat

SECRET #3

You need minutes, not months — and you won't do it alone.

Breaks the belief: "I'm busy." "Can AI really coach me?" "I need real people."

"I'M BUSY"

Minutes a day, on your phone

10-15 minutes a day

A lesson and a take fit between meetings — on the train, before the school run, on your lunch break.

MEET COACH

Tariq-level feedback, on every take

- Watches every take — your gestures, eyes, voice and story.
- Trained on the whole method — every lesson in the app, and my coaching style.

"I tested this myself. The feedback Coach gave me made me a better speaker. My own method, coaching me."

LIVE DEMO

A 30-second take — and the review that comes back

- The eight-colour spectrum
- What worked
- The lessons you used
- What to fix next
- Coach, saying it aloud

WHY COACH IS DIFFERENT

Not a speech checker. A coach with a method behind him.

Other AI speaking tools

A transcript

A filler-word count

A pace score

Numbers, no teacher

Coach

Trained on a complete speaking method and my coaching style

A visual reading across all eight colours

What worked — not only what to fix

Skills you used without realising, and the lesson each comes from

The exact lesson that fixes each thing, plus your progress since day one

It's the only one I know of built this way.

"I LEARN BEST WITH REAL PEOPLE"

It's a live six-week cohort — and I guide it

Every week we meet live, alongside a founding group on the same journey.

"In just two live sessions plus the course resources, I am stepping back into my power."

— MePower Michelle

"I RAMBLE AND LOSE MY PLACE"

Structure, and a coach who tells you when you drift

- Frameworks to hold on to — Hook, Story, Close, so you always know where you are.
- Say it in less — the Staying Succinct lesson: one clean minute, not five loose ones.
- Coach flags the drift — where you wandered, and how to cut it.

"WILL I GET LOST?"

A guided tour, whenever you want one

Every section of the app has a guided tour you can start at any time — Coach walks you through it, out loud.

QUICK CHECK

Can you see yourself doing this — ten minutes a day?

Minutes, not months. A coach on every take. And you're not alone.
